Robert,

Due to some inclement weather we received yesterday my complete schedule is being pushed back by one day. We will begin the site prep on Friday and install panels on Monday & Tuesday. I also have the crane tentatively scheduled for Wednesday in case we need an extra day.

Other than the weekend the weather looks fairly clear each of these days. I apologize for any inconvenience but unfortunately I can't control the weather.

Thanks,
Tami

Robert,

We will be down tomorrow to do a site check. I'm working on rearranging the schedule so I will get back to you with the actual installation date that our crew will begin.

Thanks,

Tami
