Lesley,
Rain Cloud is in the back display, with the 2" build up. Witch Hazel is in the white display closer to my desk.

If you are using the Monogram Advantium, I think you should use Monogram Single oven and Monogram warming drawer, especially if you are going to put 2 or more in the same cabinet.

Hello Michael. Hope you had a nice weekend. Wanted you to know I DID go look at appliances on Sunday and received my first lesson...I believe we will do the GE Advantium and an oven below this instead of the double ovens. BUT, I also do still want a warming drawer. They were showing all 3 appliances in the same area with the warming drawer at the bottom...I need to talk to my husband about this...not positive we want the warming drawer that low...but maybe. It did look nice and would probably make sense if they are all the same depth...I plan to educate myself more on line when it comes to what is out there (I cannot believe how many dishwashers are available with teeny little differences and huge jumps in price tags!)

Can you please let me know the name of the Corian I was ultimately looking at??
Was it: Raincloud?

Thanks, [REDACTED]
