yes...like the looks of Sono Camp very much...I need to see when all of Pat's family are leaving. I know the earliest they would leave would be the 26th but I doubt they all will leave that day...they are all so weird that half of them haven't even booked their flights yet! I will try to find out by this weekend...I would love for them to do it. I could maybe call, too, about doing 2 of 3 days or something?
