Hi Jeffrey,

I'd like to introduce you to Jake Vartanian, young ambitious entrepreneur. He started investing and learning finance from the age of 13 and has a very special personality. He reminds me [REDACTED] in how peaceful and wise he is.

Now he works on Native. Below is more information on his project.
Jake is in New York till Sunday. May I intro you and maybe you could meet him tomorrow ?

Merci and greetings from Tahiti.

Native

Native is a place to create and participate in Community-based economies. We enable Communities to generate their own unique currency and make collective decisions. The currencies enable access to community-value and exchangeability.

During Community Creation, Native provides a range of templates which suit various Communities' needs to ensure that even those with limited economic and technical knowledge can participate in emerging financial ecosystems.
