Yes, Christmas at home with my family. after short vacation I will continue my studies in music theatre academy in [REDACTED] and hopefully i will perform. by the way, i am thinking of building my performance and planning to invite professors from [REDACTED] dance conservatory to introduce [REDACTED] dancers with contemporary and neoclassic dance- give a seminars and make a project specially with them. i spoke with my teacher. everything is possible. recently i am hard working, taking all the classes, even those which are not obligatory... i deeply enjoy my time here! classes are wonderful! I even have Yoga class! if i had such a school from the day i started to dance i was a super dancer today! after the long day dancing I run to the French school two times a week! i am very happy about courses, although sometimes teacher takes attention in the things which is non-essential, but then i do exercises by my self. and i have so much fun sometimes there listening chins talking in French! any one can understand them! Jeffrey, greatest thank You one more time for opportunity to learn French and get away from my routine!

Few days ago i've knew about audition in Geneva on February 8. the ballet theatre offers 10 contracts! this is unheard-of! they needs 10 dancers! I am going to try once again if I have opportunity to come in Geneva on February!

The boyfriends topic... it is so complicated right now... one is in [REDACTED] the other one is [REDACTED] i like them both... but everyday it feels different... i am so confused... incidentally, friend [REDACTED] wants to introduce me with her friends son. she always points that he is very handsome, noble man, very wealthy, single, he is in his 30's, from Geneva, but works in London- perfect to me! - that's what she says. this time I don't say no! i don't reject the offer! Why not! probably i will meet him before i leave to [REDACTED]

What about you? where are you on Christmas?

Sending you hug and kiss!
