I'm working 4 days at Liagre in the week and volunteering every second Saturday at Whitney. But it is an internship at this point. (Liaigre) I enjoy it a lot.
Still seeing the neighbour Ben, he is so sweet to me and one of the kindest people I have met.
My OPT only runs until August so I have to make a plan for after that I'm struggling a lot with intense muscle pain in my shoulders neck and into the base of my head. I am prone to it but it has become extremely bad, I think because I have been standing and leaning down a lot at work. Would it be possible to go to the emergency room?
