MIDWEEK IS BACK!

Wednesdays don't just have to be hump days to get through a busy week. This fall, come to PCPC on Wednesday nights for Midweek Dinner! It may just be the highlight of your week. Join our church family for delicious food, refreshing fellowship, Bible studies for many ages, and choir rehearsals. New this year—middle school small groups have moved back on campus Wednesday nights. It's a great opportunity for middle school parents to come to PCPC on Wednesdays.

"Midweek is a great respite in our sometimes harried schedules to connect to our church body over a meal, watch our kids spend time building their own friendships, and enjoy some deep conversations mixed in with the mundane topics of everyday life. We love getting to know other church families in the middle of a busy week outside of our Sunday best." - Lacey Cole

"Our family loves midweek dinners, which give us a chance to pause from our busy schedule and abide in Christ through Bible study and choir. We get to connect with other families over a delicious meal and our children enjoy the playgrounds. It's midweek fuel for our souls to extend His Kingdom in our communities and provides a bridge to Sunday worship. Not needing to cook or clean is a bonus!"

- Amela & Chris Ericson

"It is a wonderful time to catch up with friends at dinner and then go to Bible study together." - Diane Steele

Midweek dinner runs from 5:30-7:30 p.m. every Wednesday this fall. Vespers also begins at 5:30 p.m., an intimate service featuring hymns, prayer, Scripture reading, meditations, and Communion in the Chapel. Middle school small groups begin at 6:30 p.m., and adult classes begin at 6:45 p.m.

Adult classes include Focus Bible study for men, women, and couples, reEngage for married couples, and Young Men's and Young Women's Bible studies.

Please register online for dinner by Monday afternoon. We hope you will join us at Midweek this fall!

DEEPLIGHT PODCAST

Deep Light is a space for community healing, hope, and education around topics of rescue and growth. This fall, our Deep Light series will focus on "limitations". Limitations can be emotional, physical, mental, vocational, or relational. We all have them, and rather than seeing them as a fault, they should lead us to greater dependence on the Lord. Join us as we look at the gift of limitations through interviews with various members of our church and counselors. This series will talk about how limitations become evident through raising a family, forced work limits, deliverance from anxiety due to lack of limitations, and how we use the gift of prayer and meditation to help us discover how to set those limits. This series will kick off with guest speaker Kelly Kapic talking about his book on limitations.

Past episodes of Seasons 1-3 are available. In the spring of Season 3, we discussed several topics including how people change, grief, trauma, and teenage years. Season 2 had 33 episodes discussing relationships, rest, and brokenness. And Season 1 started it all with the season of isolation during the pandemic.

Subscribe, like, and share these meaningful conversations with your family and friends, and help us build community, healing, and hope around topics of rescue and growth.
