"Walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love."

Ephesians 4:1-2

How do young adults at PCPC connect, abide, and extend Christ?

John Paul (JP), Cam, and Reynolds on PCPC's Young Adult (YA) team want to share with the PCPC congregation just what their ministry is all about.

"Young adults are not just a Sunday school class. They are a generation of people making up nearly one-third of our church population who are very active in the life of the church. Did you know that 22 through 35-year-olds make up 28 percent of the whole church? It's wild. It's a massive segment of our church," said JP Schulze, Director of Community Formation and Young Adults.

Many young adults in recent New Members Classes have come out of YA programs and want to be part of PCPC. JP shared that one YA member was baptized in December 2023 on New Member Joining Sunday. "It was an incredible moment for us to see," said JP, "it's encouraging that YA's are such a large portion of our membership class."

So, what's this age group all about?

Young Adults consist of three different life stages at PCPC: singles, couples, and families primarily in their 20's to late 30's. As a unified group, YA hopes to grow, serve, and gather regularly to know Christ more and to make Him known. The heartbeat of YA comes from Ephesians 4:1-2, with a hope to "walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another in love."

The main weekly gathering for YA is its Sunday Morning Community called Ambassadors. PCPC Resident for Young Adults, Reynolds Walker, leads most Ambassador meetings. "The Ambassadors group typically follows the sermon to drive it deeper while not overloading the participants," said Reynolds. Ambassadors have about 50-70 people attending and meet on Sundays at 11:00 a.m.

But YA goes well beyond Sunday mornings. YA is a sandwich generation, with the opportunity to serve the generation below them and also to be cared for by older adults in their 40's, 50's, and senior age. Young Adults gather in the PCPC gym for basketball and volleyball several times a week, participate in Bible studies and small groups, and enjoy fellowship events like pickleball throughout the year. PCPC's Young Adult ministry hosts a spring and fall Night of Worship, Solitude Saturday, and a Summer Book Study. The book study for example had 120 participants scattered in 12 different host homes learning about the limits

God gave us for His glory and our good. These events help create a space for young adults to have time with one another and with the larger church family as they pursue the call to abide in Christ.

As part of their desire to extend Christ, the YA's take an annual trip to Japan. Last fall, ten young adults traveled to Japan to visit with, learn from, and serve alongside Christ Bible Institute in the city of Nagoya. This spring, YA plans to take a group on a mission trip to Northern Italy to serve Italian high school students alongside PCPC Missionaries, the Luker family.

Meet the PCPC YA Team: JP, Reynolds, and Cam

PCPC currently has three staff members doing YA ministry. YA Director JP Schulze is "the mascot that brings the energy" and has been overseeing YA for ten years. Reynolds Walker helps young adult men get connected to the church, focusing on shepherding, discipleship, and teaching the Ambassadors class. The newest member of the YA staff is Cam Close, who joined the team last summer. Cam is focused on young adult women, and she wants the congregation to know what a "warm and inclusive place" PCPC is.

How to get involved?

If your age group is in the 20s or 30s and you would like to get involved with YA, please contact ya@pcpc.org. Check out the spring YA event list and join in! Additionally, YA has volunteer opportunities for people ages 40 and up to host dinners, lead a small group, or be part of summer book study either on a one-time or regular basis. See how the Lord will faithfully bless your time as you connect with this wonderful portion of PCPC's congregation. For more information, visit pcpc.org/young-adults.
