A home feels more welcoming when small details reflect your style and the season. You do not need a full room makeover to create a fresh look. Simple projects, such as adding a window treatment, updating your bedding, or decorating your front door, can make a real difference. With a little planning and creativity, you can make each room feel more comfortable and personal.

At Under a Texas Sky, home décor is about finding practical ideas that bring warmth and charm to everyday spaces. From handmade decorations to useful bedroom updates, the right choices can help your home feel ready for every season. Let's explore three simple decorating ideas that can add style without making home projects too difficult.

Give Your Windows a Fresh Look with a DIY Cornice Board

Windows often become a natural focal point in a room. However, plain window frames can sometimes make a space feel unfinished. A DIY Cornice Board is a simple way to add style above a window while creating a neat and finished appearance.

A cornice board is a decorative structure placed across the top of a window. It can be made from wood, plywood, or lightweight materials. Many homeowners cover it with fabric, batting, or paint to match their room décor. Unlike long curtains, a cornice board does not hang down over the window. It adds decoration while leaving more glass visible.

Making one at home gives you control over its size, color, and design. You can choose soft neutral fabric for a calm bedroom or a bold pattern for a living room. In Texas homes, where bright sunlight can enter through large windows, a cornice board can also work with blinds or curtains to create a layered window treatment.

Before starting, measure the window width and decide how far the board should extend beyond each side. Choose materials that are strong enough to hold their shape but light enough for safe installation. Smooth the edges, cover the front with your chosen material, and attach suitable mounting hardware.

A well-made cornice board can hide curtain rods and hardware, too. This small project can give an older room a fresh look without the cost of replacing every window treatment.

Create a Home That Reflects Your Personal Style

Good home décor does not have to be expensive or complicated. A simple window upgrade, practical bedding accessory, or handmade holiday wreath can change how a room looks and feels. The best part is that these projects allow you to work at your own pace and choose designs that suit your home.

Under a Texas Sky, at underatexassky.com , offers inspiration for people who enjoy making their homes more comfortable, useful, and welcoming. By combining creative projects with practical decorating choices, you can build a home that feels personal in every season.

Improve Bedroom Style and Comfort with an Adjustable Bed Skirt

The bedroom should be a place where you can relax and feel comfortable. Bedding plays a large role in the room's appearance, but small details often get overlooked. One example is the space beneath the bed.

An Adjustable Bed Skirt is a practical bedding accessory that covers the open area between the mattress and the floor. It helps hide bed frames, storage boxes, and other items kept underneath the bed. It also gives the bed a cleaner and more finished appearance.

The adjustable design makes this type of bed skirt useful for different bed heights. Some styles use elastic or flexible panels, while others have adjustable platforms or straps. This makes it easier to fit the skirt around different bed frames without struggling with a fixed fabric length.

When choosing one, think about your mattress height, bed frame style, and bedroom colors. A white or cream bed skirt works well with many bedding styles. Gray, beige, and soft blue can create a more relaxed look. If your bedroom has patterned sheets or colorful blankets, a simple solid-color skirt can help balance the design.

Cleaning is another point to keep in mind. Choose washable fabric if you have pets, children, or a busy household. A bed skirt that is easy to remove can save time when changing bedding or cleaning under the bed.

In warm Texas weather, keeping bedrooms neat and comfortable can make everyday life more pleasant. A simple bedding update is an easy way to improve the room without buying a new bed.

Bring Holiday Cheer to Your Door with Christmas Wreaths with Deco Mesh

Seasonal decorations help make a home feel special throughout the year. During the holiday season, the front door is often the first place people decorate. A Christmas wreath is a classic choice, but using different materials can make it more personal.

Christmas Wreaths with Deco Mesh offer a colorful way to decorate doors, walls, and indoor spaces. Deco mesh is a lightweight decorative material with an open, net-like texture. It comes in many colors, patterns, and widths, making it useful for creating full and eye-catching wreaths.

Traditional Christmas wreaths often use evergreen branches, pinecones, berries, and ribbons. Deco mesh adds another layer of color and texture. Red, green, gold, silver, and white are popular holiday choices. You can also combine two or three colors to create a design that matches your home.

To make a wreath, start with a wire wreath frame. Cut the mesh into manageable sections or use longer rolls to create decorative loops. Attach the material with pipe cleaners or suitable floral ties. Add ribbon, ornaments, small bells, or artificial greenery to complete the look.

For homes in Texas, outdoor conditions deserve some thought. December weather can vary, with sunny afternoons, cool evenings, and occasional rain. If your wreath will hang outside, choose weather-resistant materials and place it somewhere protected from strong wind and direct rain. Secure all decorations so they stay in place.

A handmade wreath can also become a fun family activity. Children can help choose colors and ornaments, while adults handle cutting and attaching materials. Each year, you can reuse the wreath frame and update its decorations with a new theme.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What materials are commonly used to make a DIY Cornice Board?

Common materials include plywood, wood boards, foam, batting, fabric, and mounting brackets. The best choice depends on your window size, preferred design, and available tools.

2. Does an Adjustable Bed Skirt fit different bed heights?

Yes. Many adjustable styles are made to fit different bed heights and frame designs. However, you should check the product measurements and fitting method before buying one.

3. Can Christmas Wreaths with Deco Mesh be used outdoors?

Yes. Deco mesh wreaths can be displayed outdoors, but weather-resistant materials are a better choice. Hang the wreath in a sheltered area to protect it from rain, strong wind, and direct sunlight.